One Night Stand

With Doulha Domingo

Tonight on 3rd Degree (7.30pm) Debora Patta comes face to face with some of apartheid's most brutal security policemen. Over 70 people died in detention during South Africa's most oppressive years. For some victims' families, the Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC) provided closure. But for others, the mystery surrounding their loved ones still lingers on. Ahmed Timol's family are desperate to know the truth of what happened in Room 1026 on October 27 1971. The TRC failed them by not subpoenaing the security policemen who interrogated and tortured Timol. 3rd Degree confronts Timol's torturers to try to get answers to the questions that were not asked. Special Assignment (SABC3, 9.30pm), titled Up Hill, is a tale of despair, told by those who live and work in an area many have abandoned, in Port Elizabeth. But it's also a story of hope because there are still those trying desperately to make a difference.

From curtain call to commercial break

Lerato Moloisane has been given a solid platform to prove herself as an actress in SABC1's new soap, Mzansi. Debashine Thangevelo chatted to the multi-talented performer about her role as the carefree and bubbly Mbali Ngcobo …

Two years ago, Lerato Moloisane was a co-presenter on SABC1's CCM1, a contemporary gospel music show. In 2003, she bagged a cameo role as Keketso's nurse on e.tv's soap Backstage.

It goes without saying then that the former theatre actress – familiar with the demands and the dynamics of the fast-pasted television industry – was well-prepped for her role as Mbali Ngcobo in SABC1's new soap.

Although Moloisane is in her element in front of the camera, she admits that theatre will always be her first passion. "I get more satisfaction with theatre because it is live and I get to see the audience's reaction," she says.

The actress adds that performing in front of the camera was a little scary at first because she used to psyche herself out worrying about the reaction of millions of viewers watching her on TV.

Moloisane is ecstatic to have the part of Mbali, who is one of the lead characters in Mzansi.

Lerato Moloisane a real bundle of energy

"We used to shoot every day from 8am to 7pm. I learnt a lot about commitment and concentration. Along the way, I also got to make new friends.

"We shot 22 episodes, which began in the second week of November. We completed filming on December 17. As you can see, we did not have a long time to shoot, so everyone had to be on-point all the time – we did not have the luxury of time for doing scenes again."

Moloisane confesses that she grew a lot as an actress during production, and does not foresee future roles being as unnerving.

She is quick to add that she is very different from Mbali, the local version of Paris Hilton.

"My character is a vibey 20-year-old studying fashion design. Mbali is a rich brat who uses her money to gain respect. She has one of her friends design most of the stuff that she passes off as her own.

"She has a lot of energy and, for her, everything is about fashion and glamour.

"I am different from her, in that I work hard to gain respect. I am not a designer, but I am an artist. The only thing we have in common is the fact that Mbali is energetic – that is how I am," reveals Moloisane.

The 22-year-old actress loves poetry, singing, dancing, acting and writing.

She studied drama at the University of Witwatersrand.

Among her favourite books is Steve Biko's I Write What I Like and Ellen Khuzwayu's Call Me Woman.

Mzansi is on at 8pm on Mondays.

Lerato Moloisane … given a chance to show off her acting talent.
