Need to hold an election -now

IT HAS and shall continue to be said that detention without trial is strictly in the interests of State securi-

An equally popular saying amongst Government sup-porters is that liberal mindporters is that inberat minds ed people in Western coun-tries become ignorant tools of the well-organised com-numist indectrination, ma-chine. Both these sugges-tions may be true to a degree, but in South Africa, matters have suddenly taken additional true.

matters have suddenly taken a different turn.
The issue is no longer one of "detention without trial" but has been overshadowed by the more dramatic "death and torture in detention without trial."

The history of our young nation reveals without doubt prolonged periods of struggle for both survival and status by the various popula-ge for both survival and status by the various population groups.

In this respect, let us turn to the struggle of the Afrikaner people and language to gain status. These people, the victims of concentration camps, lack of recognition and general abuse in the early days of our history, through determination courage and love for the fatherland have gained respect as a group that has made a substantial contribution to the stability and development of our country. It is quite factual to state, that South Africa is today ruled by an Afrikaner Government.

Let us South Africans, the Afrikaner Government.

Let us South Africans, the vast majority of whom are level-headed and fair minded, protest in the strongest possible way a gainst the shocking developments of the past week, made even more discussing by a report two days after the death of Ahmed Timol which states that the Minister of Justice had no knowledge of the incident.

It is now apparent that incident.

It is now apparent that imprisonment and detention is not really the concern of the Department of Justice

the Department of Justice any longer.

Now is the time for us, the fair minded and-com-munist people of South Africa, to call for a general election to allow us to re-move the National Party from power. This call cannot be and us, as communist from power. This call cannot hrand us as communist tools, ignorant liberals, etc., but merely as champions of justice and western democracy—two vital factors sought by the Afrikaner people in their struggles during our carly history.—ED-MUND ELIAS, Halfway House.

Must we fear to speak

AS A 16-year-old school pupil, my immediate reaction was that the recent raids related to Father Wrankmore's appeal for people to fast through Ramadan in support of his call for a judicial inquiry into police detention.

As news came through of the 20 people being held under detention, this seems to add weight to the fear of Father

Eternal apathy

I MUST express my shame at this moment at being a medical student.

Two of my colleagues have been arrested and detained for unknown reasons and in an unknown place.

They have not been given the basic democratic rights accorded to the most hardened criminals. Now one of them is m hospital in a serious condition in circumstances known only to the Security Police.

We as medical students have we as mean a state as a constraint space a word of protest.

It seems that our eternal anathy will only be broken when we are taken away in the early hours of the morning. — MEDICAL STUDENT, Weste:ifft.Johannesburg.

Since this letter was written, a statement of protest, signed by third-year medical students, has been published.

Wrankmure's supporters about police detention.

Is it not strange that what seemed to be a passive protest. For a humane attitude towards fellow citizens in detention should be ainswered by the Government detaining 20 more pages to the policy. people?

what is it that allows a country, supposedly democratic in constitution, to be able to do away with the civil rights of people by which no judicial court can establish a means of civilised inquiry?

What is it that allows parents, brothers, sisters and triends to be catten away with fear for the safety of their detained fellows whom they cannot reach?

Are these things which have bers of a 20th-century saviety must close their eyes to, and treat as natural and inevitable?

Must we, as humans, sit back

Must we, as humans, sit back and say, "They deserved it"? Or must we be ridden with and say. They deserved it or or must we be ridden with guilt, lear and auxicty, not knowing whether we are to think what is happening is wrone; not being able to say epenly that we believe justice and liberty are being violated? Why must we feel so helpless, feel that our words are useless, and eventually stop speaking because the words are only ringing meaninglessly in an emotional chaos.

I tear for these people and their families, and I identify in a natural human manner to the emotional those people must feel. But what can I do? I can only use words, empty words of sadness—ERICA EMDON, Porest Town, Johannesburg. Town, Johanneshurz

Plea to the silent ones

THE UNDERSIGNED wis, the endirection of the control wish to record our increasing alarm and disquiet over the recent Security Police actions concerning political detaines, and Government action to undertake any form of official inquiry.

We find it particuarly dis-

We find it particuarly disturbing that there are people in a position to, voice opinion, and take constructive action yet seem either too frightened or too affluent to do so.

We therefore appeal to all South Africans (especially the abovenentioned) to commit themselves to opposing such inhuman activities which can only continue to do this country, and its people irreparable harm.

harm.
To be silent now is to conduce. — C. I. VON. CHRISTIERSON, K. THYCESEN, N. S. WHITELY, Johannesburg.

UP voted for this aw

WHAT HAVE the United Party to profest about? They are in favour of detention without trial, they voted with the Gov-trial, they when what the troverment on such issues as the 90-day and 180-day Bills.

When it came to the Terrorism Bill they went so far as to suggest that Mrs. Suzman night be in favour of terrorism.

After this scurrilous cam-paign they have the temerity to profest:

page they have the temerry profest.

One would also hope that they will mention their support for the drugs Bill. Their astonishing behaviour in supporting this legislation, which also contains provisions for detention without trial, should be explained by the new champion of freedom and justice. Mr. Mike Mitchell.

The United Party has nothing to profest about. They should hang their heads in shame for what they have done to South Africa, and resolve to to South Africa, and resolve to support Mrs. Suzman whenever she fights for the rule of law.

PETER SOAL, Westdene,

Count me in

l. TOO, wish to stand up and be counted with Rev. Wrank-more. — VALMA-BANKS, P.O. Northrand.

Sometimes Jaco

ome domin

MRS. WALLOP, by Pro-Vries, Lundon: Goliani

THE TROUBLE with a THE THOUSES, with a Viles is that ne keep husy laughing that to tion is diverted treat ence of his sharp.

And this take is place the very warp and agreement.

comedy.
We find the Negree we find the seaso improbable name of ski—which he later of Pilsudski, There i con middle-class florms predilection for Mala;

The situations 41% dreams up include at devutee of Yera who taken to hospital locks latus position, assi a who countil a death); a faith header.
The herome, the 13:

Carlton Centre

PAUL IRW

